Hilary Swank, Molly Smith, Mark Soule & Colin Egglesfield

On February 2, 2011, 2S films hosted a charity event for Children Awaiting Parents in West Hollywood. Several stars were in attendance including the producer of the Blindside, Molly Smith as well as Hilary Swank, Ginnifer Goodwin, Colin Egglesfield and the Tuohy family.

The Wendy's Wonderful Kid's program, sponsored by a grant from the Dave Thomas Foundation for Adoption, has helped Children Awaiting Parents do what we do best - proactive, child-focused recruitment targeted exclusively to moving America's longest-waiting children from foster care into adoptive families.

This year, our Wendy's Wonderful Kids' Recruiter worked with families, agencies, and clinicians to finalize the adoptions of four of New York State's longest-waiting children. For these four youth who may have otherwise "aged out" of foster care, instability and hopelessness were replaced with a lifetime of unconditional love and support.

This past winter, our friends in Hollywood committed themselves to making our country's waiting children visible and you - our friends, donors, and supporters - have helped make it possible for Children Awaiting Parents to celebrate its 40th year.

This report recognizes those people who have supported Children Awaiting Parents during the fiscal year April 1, 2010, to March 31, 2011.

CAP recognizes that the number of children living in foster care nationally is down from 120,000 to 115,000. The reality is that many of these children simply "aged out" of the system and what will likely happen to them is tragic: children who don't find homes end up homeless, or part of the welfare and penal systems. Statistics show that more than 80 million Americans have considered adopting a child. If just one out of 500 of these adults adopted, every waiting child in foster care would have a permanent family. We believe in this reality and know you share our belief that every child deserves a loving home.

It has been an exciting year for the organization and we are optimistic about the future. Barriers remain for those children who wait the longest for their forever family but we know that you share in our commitment to find a permanent, loving home for every waiting child.

Meet Isaac

Isaac A skilled athlete, Isaac loves to ride his scooter and show off his bike-riding abilities! He is a very helpful young man and does chores without being asked. Isaac enjoys dressing nicely and he collects ties. He longs for a family to call his own and does well participating in family life. The ideal family for Isaac will have patience and the ability to support him as he develops trust and adjusts. He is an adorable young man who will make a wonderful addition to a family who can offer him the attention, support and encouragement he needs to thrive.

One Mom's Love

Some of the most amazing parents we meet don't start families until later in their life. Janice is one example. She became a foster and adoptive parent after retiring from a 15-year career in the military. Upon retirement, she knew she wanted children in the next phase of her life. After seeing a Children Awaiting Parents' commercial about adoption from foster care, she knew what she wanted. She soon became certified as a foster and adoptive parent and started her search. Janice, like Children Awaiting Parents, believes that all kids need love.

Janice adopted her son Dominique and was ready to open her heart and her home to another child. She met Marshall two years ago after receiving a call from a caseworker about a young man who would be a great fit for their family. Janice attended the matching event and spoke with Marshall's foster mother. "The foster mother said that Marshall was really bad and was getting into countless fights, but I could tell he was a good kid," says Janice. Marshall knew after meeting Janice that she was "cool." "I was looking for a Mom with a good sense of humor," said Marshall.

When asking Janice why she chose to adopt teen boys through foster care, she states "I had brothers, I know boys, and everyone around me had boys. Boys are challenging, I like the challenge." She states that when adopting through foster care, one needs to hang in there when the times are tough. "You've got to love them and trust each other. They are going to see how far they can push you and you've got to nip it in the bud."

Shortly after Janice and Marshall met, he started coming over to Janice's

home every other weekend, then every weekend which eventually turned into staying permanently. "As soon as I came to live with Janice I felt a part of a family. At other homes I felt like families wanted me for money. Janice treats me the same as everyone else. I have my own room and arranged it my own way without being judged," said Marshall.

When it came to adopting Marshall, Janice was ready and eager to take the next step. Marshall was thrilled about the idea as well. He had been with Janice for two years and they both knew it was right. "She is caring, she loves me, makes sure I have a roof over my head and is a good cook," says Marshall. The experience of the adoption finalization brings smiles to both of their faces. They both stated that it was a packed room full of close friends and family. "There were so many cameras. It was different being in a judge's office, but I knew this was the end of foster care for me," said Marshall.

There have been challenges for the new family. Janice's family, who lives in Florida, are a great support for her. When there are difficult days her mom reminds her "to not give up". "I am not going to break," says Janice. One day Janice caught Marshall smoking. Marshall stated, "She was mad but she gave me another chance. Other moms would have sent me back. She knows what I've been through and understands me."

Janice and Marshall have a special bond; you can see the connection. Janice gives Marshall advice on how to support himself in and out of school. "Janice advocates for me and makes me feel that I can do well in school. At my other homes I was suspended about every week from school," shares Marshall. Janice chimed in; "he tried that with me and the consequence was to volunteer at the VOA (Volunteers of America)." Janice says her proudest moments as a parent are watching her kids graduate from high school and having both book and street knowledge.

Within minutes of meeting 17-year-old Marshall, you will be impressed. With ambitions to go on to college for science, he is on the high honor role in 11th grade. Social studies and chemistry are his favorite subjects. Marshall also has an amazing drawing talent. "I loved taking drawing lessons." He has a sketch book which he keeps close to him.

Marshall is thriving with his new family. He is excited for the next stage of his life and what it will bring him. Marshall shared thoughts about being adopted through foster care, "Try it out. If it goes wrong there will be another home. But if it goes well you have a home for life." Marshall has a strong admiration for Janice. He states "I would rather have a strong mom than a dad any day."

Leadership Giving Circle

Children Awaiting Parents

Leadership Giving Circle

Since 1972, Children Awaiting Parents has been dedicated to finding permanent adoptive homes for the children in United States who typically wait the longest in foster care. As we approach our 40th anniversary, we are proud of all that has been accomplished and are determined to continue our advocacy for children waiting in foster care.

What is the Leadership Giving Circle?

The Leadership Giving Circle has been formed to enable Children Awaiting Parents to be in a strong financial position to handle future challenges. Members of the Leadership Giving Circle are individuals and businesses who share Children Awaiting Parents' vision that every child is adoptable. These members are committed to ensuring the fiscal health of the organization so that it may serve children that need the love and support of a family. Gifts to the Leadership Giving Circle are unrestricted to allow the organization to pursue opportunities to "Lift the Wait" for children in foster care across the United States.

How do I become a member of the Leadership Giving Circle?

Supporters who make unrestricted donations of $1,000 or more annually become members of the Leadership Giving Circle. Businesses and foundations that make annual unrestricted donations of $2,000 or more are included in the circle. Supporters who give $20,000 or more are offered lifetime membership in the Leadership Giving Circle.

What does membership in the Leadership Giving Circle entail?

Membership in the Leadership Giving Circle illustrates the donor's strong support of the work to which Children Awaiting Parents is committed. Members of the Leadership Giving Circle are invited to attend the annual chairman's event to have the opportunity to learn more about the work they are supporting and to ask questions of those directly involved in finding homes for children in foster care.

Vision

A loving adoptive family is found for every child waiting in foster care.

Mission

Find loving adoptive families for children waiting in foster care.
Advocate nationally for adoption by bringing attention to the children, by promoting interest among people who could become permanent adoptive families and by encouraging adoption-friendly policies.
